

Saturday Reception and Tea Attracts Crowd at Newport

Changes in Occupancy of Villas Indicate Active Season This Year.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.

Newport, R. I., March 11.—Activities at the Art Association this winter have formed one of the most interesting in the life of society here. Each Saturday brings a tea and reception, with either a lecture or music. This afternoon, the tea was given by Miss Mary L. L. and Mrs. Herbert W. Lull and Mrs. Robert R. White. Harriet Boyd Haves of Boston, archeologist, who is stopping with Mrs. Lull, was the guest of honor. The tea was given at the Art Association, which is located in the old house of the late Mrs. Lull. The attendance was large.

On Thursday next there will be an innovation at the Art Association, when there will be a cafeteria luncheon, tea and supper for the members and guests. This event will be in charge of Mrs. Charles C. Gardner. On Saturday next, Col. Louis McCarthy Little, U. S. M. C., will give a talk on "American Citizenship."

Mr. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, who sailed for Europe to-day on the Olympic, will return to his home in Newport on Monday and will be one of the committee for the annual Newport Horse Show. The early part of the week Mr. Vanderbilt entertained friends at his farm and had a dinner in the riding ring, afterward showing some of his breeding horses.

Several changes in the occupancy of villas will mark the coming season, which is expected to be an active one. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Eppley will occupy Beacon Rock, their new home, recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan. Mr. and Mrs. John Angerson, who last year occupied the d'Hauteville cottage, will be at their newly purchased estate, Rockwood, near the village of Narragansett.

Rentals announced by Dehobis & Dehobis include the following: Miss Fanny L. Johnson has rented the Stockton cottage, Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Pope have rented the Point farm here for the summer and will be one of the committee for the annual Newport Horse Show. Public Finds Some Art of Independents Quite Worth While Thousand Persons Attend Exhibition in the Waldorf Roof—Some Sales Made.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Miss Mathilde McCormick and her guest from Switzerland, Miss Julia Mangold, started to-day for Hot Springs, Va. They were accompanied by Mr. Howard Colby of New York, who has been visiting Miss McCormick, for some time. It is expected that Mr. McCormick will join the party in the South later.

Miss McCormick declined to discuss the rumor that she would visit her grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, at Ormond later in the month, to gain his approval of her marriage, which it is said has not yet been given.

Miss Mangold is secretary to Max Oser, the fiancé of Miss Mathilde, at his riding academy in Switzerland. The two young women became devoted friends during Miss McCormick's stay in Switzerland.

Miss McCormick, who has just turned seventeen, confided to one of her close friends prior to her departure to-day that she would be married abroad.

Tentative plans have been made by her father for his daughter and party of three to visit the Continent next month.

Miss Mathilde's mother, who was recently divorced from her father, refuses to sanction the marriage on the ground that her daughter is entirely too young to marry the Swiss riding master, who admits to being forty-six years old.

Mr. Rockefeller has steadfastly refused to be quoted as to his opinion regarding the marriage of his granddaughter to the Swiss horseman.

ROBERT J. WYNNIE DIES; IN ROOSEVELT CABINET

New York Man Served as Postmaster-General.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Robert J. Wynne, 72, of 33 West End avenue, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Mr. Wynne was a native of New York, and prior to his appointment as Postmaster-General in 1901, he had served as a Washington newspaper correspondent and as First Assistant Postmaster-General.

Mr. Wynne, after leaving the Cabinet in 1905, was appointed Consul-General in London and held that office until 1910. Since that time he had acted as president of the First National Fire Insurance Company of the United States, and had lived in Washington.
